THE TURKISH SOCIETY OF HVAC & SANITARY ENGINEERS

The Turkish Society of HVAC and Sanitary Engineers, founded in 1992 in order to promote and develop heating, ventilating, air conditioning and sanitary engineering applications, is now a widely recognised organisation where professionals from various disciplines (designers, manufacturers, academicians, contractors, agents, etc.) gather in pursuit of common goals. The society strives to achieve information and technology transfer from abroad, to represent its members in international events and to establish the necessary connection with international institutions in order to inform its members on most recent technological developments in the sector.

INVITATION

The Tenth Biannual Symposium on HVAC+R Technologies, will take place on April 30th - May 2nd 2012 in Istanbul. This symposium, organised by the Turkish Society of HVAC & Sanitary Engineers, will be held with the participation of the representatives of the universities and companies and will be cooperated by the technical societies. You are invited to participate in this important meeting where the new products will be exhibited and where the papers on new technological developments will be presented.

OBJECTIVE

The 10th Symposium, being held in Istanbul since 1994, is progressively showing an international character. The main objective of the symposium is to provide an atmosphere to discuss scientific and technological developments in the fields of heating, refrigerating, ventilating, air conditioning and sanitary engineering applications and to benefit from the know-how and experience of engineers, contractors, academicians and manufacturers.

Turkey has served as a bridge enabling the flow of information, technology and commerce between the East and the West. This particular symposium in Istanbul, which will be accompanied by an exhibition, aims to provide a similar bridge in the field of HVAC and Sanitary technologies.
